Answers to Common Questions...

Must I recycle?

Proper disposal of mercury containing lamps is required by law in all 50 states. In most states and in Canada recycling is the preferred option. Call to find out your state's or province's options.

What if I only have a few lamps?

The Smartpac™ HID lamp recycling service can work for as few or as many lamps as you use. Accumulate your used lamps in the Smartpac™ shipping carton and ship them back one carton at a time.

What if my used lamps are not from Venture?

As long as you bought new lamps from Venture, we'll handle the used lamps that are returned in a Venture lamp carton.

Does Smartpac™ recycle high pressure sodium lamps?

Yes, with the same easy, hassle free service, if you purchase Venture White Lux™ Metal Halide conversion lamps designed to be used in HPS fixtures.

How do I check the local laws?

We keep track of all state and federal regulations. If you have questions, call our affiliate, HID Recycling, Inc. at 1-800-200-9716. HID Recycling also tracks the Canadian federal and provincial regulations.

Who keeps the records?

The shipping record is your proof of proper disposal. In addition, we will keep active files of the recycling service for 5 years.

What if I want a certificate of recycling?

We will issue a certificate of recycling if you want it.

What does it cost?

You just pay shipping. If you are in a state or province that promotes recycling, you can use a bill of lading to ship the used lamps back to us. If you are not in a state that promotes recycling, we can arrange for your shipping. Either way, we take care of recycling your used lamps, as an added service to you.
